

New Moon Midnight March at the Environmental Education Center

Join us for this rare opportunity to take a guided midnight walk under the limited light of the New Moon. The lesser light will help accentuate the night sounds as we sharpen our often underrated sense of hearing. We will listen for frogs, owls, raucous rails, and also try to spy bats and inquisitive insects. This is an excellent time of night and year to see and hear these wonderful animals. Ages 10 and up. Do not miss out!
